

ABSTRACT

When the load of a movable object is applied on to a platform of the invention it will create a counter force to the original point of application by means of specifically arranged mechanical devices. With such action the platform turns into an inclined surface to provide an automatic moving force for the movable object without requiring any outside power source except for the force of gravity.

1. The first step is to identify the problem. This involves understanding the current situation and what needs to be changed.